What's Your Game Plan? People*Planning*Profit

NGIA 2010 Conference

Wednesday 28 – Thursday 29 July 2010

Rydges, Oxford Terrace, Christchurch

WHAT'S YOUR
GAME PLAN?
NGIA CONFERENCE
CHRISTCHURCH 28-29 JULY 2010

PEOPLE
PLANNING
PROFITS

The programme this year is fast-paced, busy, and packed with concentrated material to appeal to both retailers and growers. The 'work' aspect of the conference will be underpinned by a strong dose of good old South Island hospitality and some tongue-in-cheek red & black parochialism!

Our opening speaker is well-known Sir Gil Simpson whose topic is "The Early Bird gets the Worm" – it sounds like the perfect topic for our industry. Deidre Graham from Kissing Frog will then speak on "Employee Engagement" – her presentation will look at the very real implications employee engagement can have on a business. The coach of the Mercury Energy Tactix, Helen Mahon-Stroud, will share her coaching skills in "Game Planning – P3". Tony Sewell, CEO Ngai Tahu Property Ltd, has a wealth of experience in working in a team situation and will present how family businesses can "Develop and Implement a Winning Game Plan".

Other key topics include "The Game with a Team of 7000" from Peter Silcock of Horticulture NZ; "Developing a Mutually Beneficial Partnership" from Murray Sherwin, Director General Agriculture; "The RMA, a Shifting Environmental Landscape and Your Game Plan" from Chris Keenan of Horticulture NZ; and Consumer Behaviour from Juanita Neville-Te Rito, CEO Hotfoot.

Fun is an essential part of any good Game Plan – after all, people are the key element of winning. We start the networking with an informal dinner at the Belgium Beer Café on Tuesday night. The Regional Colours Dinner on Wednesday night, sponsored by the Ellerslie International Flower Show, will be a heap of fun, the highlight being the HortFert Young Achiever Quiz and speeches. Be sure to wear something supporting your region's colours or you may end up wearing red and black!

The Great Hall in the Arts Centre is a jewel in the crown of Christchurch's historic past and the Daltons-sponsored Awards Dinner in this spectacular setting will be prestigious and memorable. The winners of the Scotts Innovation Award, the Hortfert Young Achiever Award, the Yates Garden Retailer of the Year, and the New Zealand Gardener Marketing Awards will be announced.

Our venue is the Rydges Hotel right in the heart of town, within walking distance of bars, shops, the Christchurch Art Gallery, and the Botanic Gardens (in no particular order!). And this may be your first chance to travel by tram!

We invite you to lift your Game Plan by focusing on People, Planning and Profits – and have fun doing it. We look forward to seeing you in Christchurch.

Peter Worsp, Canterbury Organising Committee
